

Comments Book - St Mungo Museum - November 2011

"Simple and heart-breaking! Amazing! - Cathedral member

"Very moved. So many untold stories."

"Very sad. Thought-provoking. Very Well Done"

"Thank you, we both enjoyed the message and flagging up domestic violence"
- A & L

"Watching these shoes is like reading other people's stories. It gives me the chance to step into other people's shoes".

"A story in every step - a journey for you to choose" 23 Dec 2011.

"I was neglected as an infant, abused as a child, hurt in my marriage - it can stop"

I think it was heart-breaking, amazing shoes!"

"Thanks you for gathering these stories to share with everyone". -
Margaret Long, Glasgow Churches Together.

"These shoes told different stories, sad and happy ones".

"Every pair of shoes tells a story and gives you a glimpse of what has been going on in their lives. Hopefully they find their way to peace of mind and body". - Mary Scott

"Very powerful. Thought provoking. Keep up the good work all - Domestic Abuse, no excuse ever!"

"Such a simple idea and yet so powerful".

"A very powerful moving exhibition on domestic violence - well set out. Hope it will help some women to take action to free themselves from this tyranny". - 25.11.11 a member of the Church of Scotland & guildswoman.

"Powerful, hard hitting - relevant and necessary, thank you

Claire Docherty - "I have grown up with violence, until it came to me after 5 years of false loving, The night my dad died and he broke my eye socket until he broke my soul. Don't be lost & lonely like me and please seek help but move for you as you're so worth life, you only have one, please start a group and get your support there if you've nothing - please". Love Claire

A very powerful exhibition. God bless you for highlighting Domestic Abuse x

Theresa Maitland - "In visiting the exhibition today, I felt great comfort in knowing "We" are finally putting up a fight to end this violence. Don't get angry get ACTIVE"

"Women have a voice - please use it". "Don't get angry, get active"
"Exhibitions very powerful, very thought endure. Well done!! Please keep up the fantastic work". Thanks xx L. Elliot xxx

"Shoes tell of our unique journeys with God & neighbour. I can't walk in someone else's shoes nor can they in mine" - Sr Maria.

"Very powerful. I hope it makes a person walk away. I suspect it will be more go girl!"

1/12/2011 - "Hopefully the pairs of shoes, for people to walk in their shoes. I hope it brings comfort and definitely courage to women who experience this abuse in their relationships".

Very touching, and to know, yes, that god is with every individual in this city and around the world and justice will be done in his name!"

"This was a moving and thought-provoking exhibition, not without humour. I will pray with you".

"Very moving and powerful sharing of stories. Thank you".

"Moving and relevant. Thank you".